Book Two

January 2, 1922 - June 9, 1922

Monday, January 2, 1922

1:45 - 5:45

E. L. Ogden

Attendance

Proceeded with copying of subject list- Building was so cold that copying was done after 3:00 at the Carnegie Library. Came back at 5:30 to see that all was in order before leaving. Books borrowed over holidays by bar exam class were returned in good condition. Rooms had been mopped, but cobwebs in evidence and tables and window sills not dusted. Wiped them off, also desk.

Books received: ALR 14 and a vol. of Atl Reporter, 114. Also Bouvier's dictionary v.1-3. Case and Comment Nov/Dec 1921

Mice had attacked "advance sheets" on shelves-

E. L. Ogden

Attendance

Fairly comfortable but was informed that no classes had been held since the holidays because of lack of heat. Man came and oiled sills but floors had not been swept nor cobwebs removed.

Finished copying subject list; Rearranged other lists and corrected Reading Room Inventory to conform with recent changes. Forgot to note that some days before the holidays a bulletin board was installed. It's location is neither handsome nor convenient, but was determined, said the Dean, because it could not be placed elsewhere without defacing walls. First notice posted concerned Christmas holidays. Jan. 3--~~Posted notice of new books. (Bouvier)~~

Left note with Mr. Lindley (janitor) with the Dean suggesting posting notice that the Library would continue to be open evenings until the end of term. Also left him a duplicate key to Librarian's desk with note of location of Bulletin Board key.

Compared author list with publisher's catalogues. Miss Luttrell came in, read report and talked of various library matters. Dean McDermott glanced over report, and answered various questions... As to increasing the use of books among students, said he did not think the library could do anything to help. That it is possible for students to get along by using their own case books, that they are urged not to stop there, but to look up original sources but it will be a work of time to get them to do this. As to order in the morning, he comes in occasionally to ~~get~~ tell them to take off their hats and not to talk so loud. He thinks the mere presence of some one in charge would have a good effect, even if the supervisor does not know much about the books. He thinks if some one could be found to come only part of the morning that 9 to 12 would be preferable and close the library entirely at other times. Said he would speak to Mr. Kirkman about changing the bulletin board. Looked over list of books not found when ~~inventory~~ L L shelf list was checked and picked out those that ought to be replaced. Approved idea of a pamphlet collection and recommended writing for all free material for which slips were submitted to him- These included pretty much everything- federal & state docs. & pams. except labor laws. Said he had asked about chairs but was afraid there would be none this year.

Summary of Report Sept 18, 1922 - Jan. 30, 1923

Housing and equipment. New furniture ordered in summer; 20 chairs, rec'd before beginning of term 4 tables, rec'd Oct 20 (about); clock, from Carnegie Lib. hung soon after beginning of term; edges of shelves, ends, bases and ledges had been stained; bulletin board was moved to a more convenient position; lockers for students use ready after middle of Nov. In course of term window fastenings & weather strips were fitted, one wall stack transferred from Room 13 to Room 15 and two double stacks in room 13 moved against the wall, ten additional old chairs obtained and one long table transferred from Reading Room to Room 13. All this unavoidable though disturbing. Heating more satisfactory than last year; Selected volumes removed from shelves to table near librarian's desk.

Staff and Library Hours. H. H. Turner, 8:00 to 1:00; E.L. Ogden, 1 - 5:45; E, Wiley, Tuesday and Wednesday, 7 - 9p.m. (Beginning Oct.17). After Dec.4, Saturday closing was at 4 instead of 5:45

Library regulations and the use of the Library. No new regulations. Good order, studious atmosphere; less coming and going for books after lockers were installed in the hall.

Work Accomplished. Miscellaneous work with records of books sent to bindery, new books, shelf location changes etc; information given to students on use of books, their arrangement in the Library etc.. No. of books (exclusive of dups., inclusive of orders rec'd during term) computed 3947. Much shifting consequent on rearrangement of stacks; distribution of mail to faculty assumed by law library.

Book Collection: At close of previous term in June new treatises to number 94 vols., a full set of Harvard law review and a full set of Amer. Digest were ordered; 20 vols. rec'd from estate of C. W. Turner; 30 vols. serial continuations; Seventy four pamphlets gift of J.R. Bender & requested from publishers; books came back from bindery from Oct. 17 to end of term, a few remain to be delivered. Two books were missed at the beginning of the term; 6 vols. disappeared from the shelves in the course of the term. Tenn. Law Review v.1 no.1 issued, and several number of law reviews from other colleges were rec'd.
