Law Day Coif Award To Justice Burnett

On Saturday, May 1, 1954, at the Third Annual Law Day Banquet of the College of Law, the Honorable Hamilton S. Burnett will be inducted as an honorary member of the Tennessee Chapter of the Order of the Coif. Justice Burnett is the third outstanding member of the bench and bar of Tennessee selected for this award. Judge John W. Green was so honored in 1951, and Gen. James A. Fowler in 1953.

An excellent program has been planned this year; the afternoon highlight being the Finals of the Appellate Argument commencing at 2 p.m. The question before the court involves the right of a union to picket peacefully when employees have chosen unanimously not to join the union. Sitting on the appellate court will be Justice Burnett and Judges McAmis and Hale.

The Semifinal Arguments will be held during the week prior to Law Day before Judge J. Fred Bibb, '16, of the Knox County Criminal Court, Judge William C. Burton of the Knox County Circuit Court, and the Hon. Thomas H. Goodman, former Judge, Tennessee Court of Appeals, and Justice, United States Court of Appeals for Germany. To all of these judges who have given so generously of their time and advice, the Faculty and Student Bar Association here express our appreciation.

The winners of the Appellate Competition will each be presented a prize offered by the Knoxville Bar Association. Taylor Cox, '27, President of the Association, will make the awards. The Knoxville Bar Association has also donated a permanent plaque upon which the names of the finalists each year are to be engraved.

The principal speaker at the Law Day Banquet to be held Saturday evening at the Holston Hills Country Club will be the Hon. Albert Gore, United States Senator from Tennessee.

Certificates and Coif keys will be presented to recent graduates elected to membership in this national law school honor society: David S.

Zachary, Oak Ridge; Albert H. Dehner, Knoxville; Donald L. Halladay, Knoxville; and David S. Haynes, Bristol.

Certificates will also be presented to members of the Editorial Board of the Tennessee Law Review: Carl H. Langschmidt, Jr., Memphis, Editor-in-Chief; William Bedwell, Comments Editor; Gavin Gentry, Casenotes Editor; and to Robert Betts, William Friedman, and James Webb. Prizes will also be awarded to the winners of the various student competitions held throughout the year including the Wills Contest and the Trial Moot Court Awards.

U-T Reaches Semifinals In National Competition

In November, 1953, the Law College entered for the first time the National Appellate Moot Court Competition sponsored by the Association of the Bar of the City of New York. The Alumni, Faculty, and Student Bar Association extend their congratulation to Alvin Bell, Robert Weiss and A. Stanley Robinson, Knoxville, for their fine showing in gaining the regional semifinals, losing only to the University of Nebraska Law School which went on to win the National Finals in New York.

Reservation at $3.50 per person for the Law Day Banquet and Dance to be held Saturday evening, May 1st, 7 p.m., at Holston Hills Country Club, may be made at the U-T Student Bar Association office.

National Law Student Group Delegates Convene At U-T

The Sixth Annual Convention of the 6th Circuit of the American Law Student Association, a national organization sponsored by the Young Lawyers Section of the American Bar Association, will be held at the U-T College of Law on Friday, April 30th, 1954. Delegates from the thirteen member schools in this Circuit will be honored at a reception Thursday evening, April 29th, in the Law College Lounge. Members of the bar are cordially invited to attend the reception and the panel discussions the following day.

The Friday morning session will be devoted to Scientific Fact Determinators with Dean William Wicker as Moderator. Knoxville attorney Eugene Puett, '53, will analyze the legal problems in the use of the Drunkometer. The lie detector as a fact determinator will be discussed by Howard N. Woodside of the Oak Ridge Bar. Significant features of radar traffic controls will be presented by Raymond H. Moseley of the law firm of Hodges & Doughty, Knoxville. Concluding the morning program will be an illustrated lecture on F.B.I. detection techniques by E. A. Soucy, Special Agent in Charge, Knoxville. Demonstrations of the use of these scientific devices will be presented by members of the F.B.I., the Tennessee Highway Patrol and the Knoxville Police Department.

The afternoon session will feature a panel moderated by Justice Hamilton Burnett on The Unauthorized Practice of Law. Walter Chandler, '09, of Memphis, will represent the bar, and Curtis Allen of the Hamilton National Bank, Knoxville, the trust companies. Albert M. Miller, President of the Tennessee Certified Public Accountants Association, and George Tate, President of the Real Estate Board of Knoxville, will present the viewpoints of their organizations.

Knox County Criminal Court Judge J. Fred Bibb, '16, will be Moderator of the panel on Preparation of a Criminal Case: Protection of Your Client, Investigative Techniques, Ethical Norms. With Hobart Atkins, '21, as defense counsel, drawing on his long experience in criminal trials at the Knoxville Bar, and Hal Clements, '33, in his familiar role as Attorney General, the delegates from the 6th Circuit have a treat in store for them.

Guest speaker at the ALSA Luncheon will be Dr. Andrew Holt, Vice-President of the University. At the evening Banquet, the Hon. James N. McCord, former Governor of Tennessee, will address the Convention.

Medico-Legal Institute Planned

Presented in co-operation with the Knoxville Academy of Medicine and the Knoxville Bar Association, the Fifteenth Annual Institute of the College of Law, to be held November 12-13, 1954, will be devoted to the medical and legal aspects of the trial of personal injury actions.

The two-day Institute will consist of illustrated lectures in layman's language on the fundamentals of anatomical structure, the physiological basis of specific symptoms, and the medico-legal evaluation of particular disabilities. Investigation, preparation for trial, and the proper presentation of the plaintiff's and defendant's cases will also be discussed. The closing session, consisting of demonstrations of proper cross-examination of the medical expert, will be presented by nationally known trial attorneys.

1953 Institute Well Attended

A capacity audience, comprised of representatives of labor, management, government and the legal profession heard a distinguished group of experts discuss The Law and Labor Relations at the Fourteenth Annual Law Institute on November 8th, 1953. The pros and cons of collective bargaining, Taft-Hartley Amendments, the NLRB, and labor problems of the southern coal industry were spiritedly discussed in round-table fashion. Moderators were Edwin H. Rayson, '48, of Kramer, Dye, McNabb & Greenwood, Knoxville, and Jac Chambliss, of Chambliss, Chambliss & Brown, Chattanooga. From the Washington scene came Guy Farmer, Clyde Mills, Robert Denham, Thomas Harris, Lambert Miller, Joseph Moody and Albert Woll. The Institute received nation-wide press and radio publicity.
