Robert Milton Jones, Professor Emeritus of the College of Law of the University of Tennessee, died in Knoxville on October 24, 1960, at the age of 90. He received his B.S. degree from Grant University and his LL.B. degree from the University of Tennessee.

Judge Jones was admitted to the Tennessee bar in 1896. He practiced by himself, or as an active partner in three of Tennessee's leading law firms, from 1896 to 1926. He served with distinction as a Chancellor of the Eleventh Tennessee Chancery Division, from 1926 to 1934.

Tennessee.

Judge Jones was a delightful and an inspiring teacher. He was invariably referred to as "the Judge", not only by his students and colleagues, but also by most of the others who had an opportunity of coming in contact with him.
