ALUMNI HEADNOTES

Fall, 1983/The University of Tennessee College of Law/Julia P. Hardin, Editor

CLASS AGENTS BOOST ANNUAL GIVING FROM ALUMNI

In 1981, the law college initiated an Annual Fund Appeal in which all gifts received are designated for the exclusive use of the College of Law. To give this new approach valuable momentum, alumni/ae of the school were asked to serve as Class Agents. In this capacity, alumni/ae generously volunteered their time and energies to the task of spreading the message of the school's needs to their colleagues.

The Class Agent program is still in its infancy, and not every year has an agent identified as its representative, but there are already signs of success. Since its inception, the percentage of alumni/ae contributing annually to their alma mater has increased, and $21,292 was raised in 1982-83, alone. Under the inspired leadership of Chairperson Robert Echols, the program has enabled the George C. Taylor Law Center to cope with some of the funding problems all state-supported schools have experienced recently.

Robert L. Echols, '64 is Chairperson of the Law
Annual Fund and Leader of the
1983 Class Agent
Program.

Shakespeare and Perdition

— Excerpts from the May, 1983 Hooding Ceremony address by Donald F. Paine, Class of 1963 and President of the Knoxville Bar Association.

"I have always believed that lawyers were just as unimportant as other people — most of us, after all, are doomed to perdition. But the law is important."

"One mark of a good lawyer is that he or she is conscientious."

***

"Law school has been a 'hassle,' and the bar examination you are about to take likewise is a considerable hassle. But the bad news, perhaps, is that you are embarking on a career in which you are paid to be hassled in trying to resolve the hassles of your clients. Yet that may be what keeps law practice interesting."

"The thought is not original with me, but I hold it to be true and vitally significant: You have only one reputation as a lawyer, and if you lose it you never get it back. Once clients and lawyers and judges lose their trust in you as a professional, the distrust is permanent."

***

"Let us not take ourselves too seriously as we travel through this vale of tears. Let us remember, with Shakespeare: 'We are such stuff as dreams are made on, and our little life is rounded with a sleep'."

Championship Essay By Pierce Published in ASCAP Symposium

A concentrated effort by a law student continues to reap rewards and recognition for her three years later.

Kay H. Pierce, a 1980 graduate of UT College of Law, researched and wrote a paper several years ago and entered it in a competition. It has since been published in the Tennessee Law Review, 47 Tenn. L. Rev. 787 (1980), and it won for her the National First Prize in the Nathan Burkan Memorial Competition. The article can now be found between the hardcovers of the ASCAP Copyright Law Symposium Number Thirty (1983, Columbia University Press: New York).

"Copyright Protection for Computer Programs" is the title of the lead essay written by Ms. Pierce. Kay Pierce is now with Gould, Inc., in Rolling Meadows, Illinois. The book featuring her significant accomplishment now occupies a very special place among the volumes exemplifying legal scholarship in the UT College of Law Library.

Portraits of Prominent Attorney Jenkins And Wife Given To UT

Two portraits, one of Ray H. Jenkins (1897-1980) and one of his wife Eva Nash Jenkins (1902-1961), have been given to the University of Tennessee by their daughter, Eva Jenkins Mooney. They are currently on exhibit in the George C. Taylor Law Center Art Gallery.

Ray Jenkins graduated from UT College of Law in 1920 and proceeded to earn international prominence when he was appointed by Senator Everett Dirksen as special counsel to the Army-McCarthy hearings in 1954. Mrs. Jenkins was a respected social and civic leader.

The paintings are by Henry Hensche, an American contemporary artist.
