Law at Tennessee

WELCOME, DEAN YARBROUGH!

The faculty, students, and staff of the University of Tennessee College of Law welcome Dean Yarbrough to the College, to Knoxville, and to East Tennessee. Dean Yarbrough's many professional interests and activities prove she has the "Volunteer" spirit already! We also want to welcome Carmen and Carla Ainsworth to the GCT family.

THANK YOU, JOHN SEBERT AND PAT HARDIN

John Sebert, who has served as Acting Dean for the College this past year, deserves a hearty round of applause and praise. John has agreed to continue as the College of Law's Associate Dean for Academic Affairs for the next academic year.

Professor Pat Hardin has served as Associate Dean in the College of Law's administrative staff for the 1986-87 academic year with great humor, ability, and dedication. He will resume a full teaching schedule for 1987-88.

Thank you, both!

FACULTY/
STAFF NEWS*A DECADE OF SERVICE

Acting Dean John Sebert presented Senior Records Clerk Kate Dossett with a ten-year service pin from the University of Tennessee on August 22. Kate has worked in the College of Law's Records Office for seven years. Before she came to us, she worked at UT's hospital. Thank you, Kate, for all of your hard work and kind attention to our students' needs.

GOOD-BYE AND GOOD LUCK TO ALLEN BOYER

Professor Allen Boyer has departed the hallowed halls of the University of Tennessee College of Law for the uptown corridors of New York Law School. Professor Boyer spent a year with us as a visiting professor and taught contracts and corporations. The College of Law faculty and students alike were fortunate to get to know Allen Boyer. We will all miss him and wish him the best for the future. His new mailing address is New York Law School, 57 Worth Street, New York, New York, 10013.

LAW REVIEW CANDIDACY PROGRAM

Sixty-five second-year law students have sent in letters of intent to take part in the Tennessee Law Review candidacy program that will begin August 10 at 9:00 a.m. in Room 118 of the College of Law. Former TLR editor-in-chief Judy Cornett will talk to the students about writing a casenote at the meeting.

During the summer, the candidates completed a "Blue Book Exam," which they will turn in on August 10 as a prerequisite to going on in the process. Candidates will learn what is expected of them over the two-week initial try-out process. During the first week, the students will write a closed-universe casenote. The second week's work will be on a research test. Students who pass the two-week process will then be invited to write a casenote for publication in the TLR. A final decision on their candidacy will be made in early October.

For further information, see John Tishler or Micki Fox in the Law Review Office.

NEW COIF MEMBERS

The Tennessee Chapter of the Order of the Coif has admitted the following persons to membership: Susan Bartell, Tom Bickers, Gary Cruciani, Scott Davis, Mark DeBord, Susan Fendley, David Fleenor, Tina Greer, Vonda Laughlin, Kim Rozanski, Amy Spencer, Tim Warnock, Julie Watson, Sherry Wilson, and Martha Zendlovitz. The Chapter also voted membership to two members of the Law faculty: Professor Otis Cochran and Professor Allen Boyer.

The Order of the Coif is a national law school honor society, election to which depends upon exceptional scholastic attainment, and is the highest honor regularly conferred by the College of Law. Congratulations to all the new members!

Direct inquiries and submit material for publication to J. Hardin or B. Stuart.

"Taylor Times" is published as a service to the students, staff, and faculty of the University of Tennessee College of Law.
