The University of Tennessee, Knoxville does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, religion, national origin, age, handicap, or veteran status in provision of educational opportunities or employment opportunities and benefits.

UTK does not discriminate on the basis of sex or handicap in the education programs and activities which it operates, pursuant to the requirements of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Pub. L. 92-318; and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Pub. L. 93-112; respectively. This policy extends to both employment by and admission to the University.

Inquiries concerning Title IX and Section 504 should be directed to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Planning and Administration, 525 Andy Holt Tower, 974-4391. Charges of violation of the above policy should also be directed to the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Planning and Administration.

James C. Kirby, Jr., Acting Dean

We take great pleasure in introducing to you the University of Tennessee Lawyers of the Future. As a prospective employer your consideration is of tremendous value to our Career Planning and Placement Program.

With full confidence in their qualifications, we recommend these students for the practice of law as well as for careers in business, teaching and public service. Our pride in our graduates has been reinforced by recently published figures that our graduates lead those of all Tennessee law schools in bar examination performance, having a 94% passing rate over the period of the last five exams.

The increasing numbers of employers who are visiting the College to interview our students and returning after being highly satisfied with the work of our graduates is also greatly encouraging.

Approximately 97% of University of Tennessee students accepted employment upon graduation from the 1979-80 classes. While 70% remain in Tennessee, approximately 30% accepted offers from law firms beyond Tennessee.

In the coming year we expect to graduate approximately 185 students and, in addition, we will have about the same number of second-year students, many of whom will be seeking opportunities for summer clerkships.

We receive many gratifying comments from employers about the work of our Career Planning and Placement Program. We welcome the opportunity to provide even better service in the future in working with you to fill the placement needs of our students and the hiring needs of your organization.

CAREER PLANNING & PLACEMENT SERVICES

The College of Law provides career counseling and placement services to meet the needs of the student who is looking for his/her first clerkship, the recent graduate who is beginning a legal career, and the alumnus who is seeking a career change. With this goal in mind, the ongoing activities include workshops in interviewing skills and resume writing, scheduling on-campus interviews, attending out-of-state hiring conferences, and coordinating all law-related employment opportunities, whether with law firms, corporations, insurance companies or government agencies.

The on-campus interview has proven to be the most successful and fiscally sound method of recruitment for small and large firms. Although on-campus interviewing is scheduled throughout the year, the fall is traditionally the time in which the attentions of law firms and law schools are especially focused on the recruitment process. Because of the change to the semester system, the 1981 on-campus interviewing season will begin September 1.

We look forward to a mutually beneficial and successful recruiting season.

Sandra S. O'Rourke
Director

LAW CENTER PROGRAMS & ORGANIZATIONS

Legal Clinic

The University of Tennessee Legal Clinic was established in 1947. Through the process of providing legal assistance to indigent persons, the Clinic serves primarily as a teaching device to correlate theory and practice through personal contact with clients and their problems. The Legal Clinic functions as a large law office in which the student gains experience in interviewing clients, writing legal letters, investigating and evaluating facts, preparing memoranda of law, briefing cases, arguing motions, preparing cases for trial or adjustment, and participating in actual litigation. Classroom work supplements the handling of actual cases. The student is thus trained in the technique of law practice and the management of a law office. The ethical responsibilities of lawyers and their function as public servants are stressed. Under present rules of the Tennessee Supreme Court, Clinic students, under the direct supervision of the Legal Clinic staff, are certified to practice before all the courts of Tennessee.

Public Law Institute

The Public Law Institute provides research and continuing legal education programs for the judiciary, the bar, and public and private agencies. It publishes the quarterly

Tennessee Judicial Newsletter and has published numerous books on Tennessee law for use by judges, attorneys, and the lay public.

The Institute creates opportunities for members of the faculty and the student body to engage in legal research and publication as a public service to the people of Tennessee. Among its regular activities are drafting legislation, year round continuing judicial education programs, and assisting others in providing legal education in high schools and colleges.

The Tennessee Law Review

The Tennessee Law Review is a legal periodical published quarterly by the faculty and students of the College of Law. Candidates for the Review are selected from the second-year law class on the basis of scholarship and writing ability. The editorial board of the Review is composed of upper-class students.

The Review offers an excellent opportunity to those students with the requisite legal aptitude and industry to do legal research and writing of a scholarly and practical nature. Notes and comments upon important recent decisions are prepared by each student editor under the supervision of the law faculty and are published in the Review.

A student may not serve on the editorial board while also participating in Moot Court Board activities or while serving as a student instructor in the R. & W. III program.

The Order of the Coif

The Order of the Coif is a national law school honor society, election to which depends upon exceptional scholastic attainment. Only those students who, at the time of their graduation, are among the first tenth of their class are eligible. Election is made by the law faculty and is the highest honor regularly conferred by the College of Law.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Moot Courts

All students are eligible to compete for a place on various intra- and inter-law school Moot Court teams. There is an annual Law Day Competition and the College of Law participates in the National Inter-Law School Moot Court Competition. Regional winners in this competition compete in final arguments at the national level. Teams from the Law College have frequently won honors in the regional competition, and in 1976 UT's team won the final round of the national competition in New York City.

Similar programs are conducted by the Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition, the Giles Sutherland Rich Moot Court Competition, the Frederick Douglass Moot Court Competition, the Wagner Labor Law Moot Court Competition, and the Irving R. Kaufman Securities Law Moot Court Competition.

The Advocates' Prize Moot Court Competition was established through the generosity of a good friend of the College of Law. After extensive intra-school competition final arguments are made at the annual Law Day program. Customarily, a panel of three federal judges hears the final arguments. In 1980 the Honorable William H. Rehnquist, Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, presided over the panel which consisted of the Hon. Nathaniel R. Jones of the Sixth Circuit and the Hon. Robert R. Merhige, Jr., of the United States District Court, Richmond Va. Prizes are awarded on the basis of outstanding brief, best oral argument, and best appellate advocacy team.

Student Bar Association

The UT Student Bar Association is a member of the American Law Student Association, which is affiliated with the American Bar Association. As members of the S.B.A., all law students have the opportunity to participate in College of Law activities. At weekly meetings the Association sponsors lectures and similar programs. Each spring it sponsors an annual Law Day.

Student Legal Assistance Program

"SLAP" is an organization of law student volunteers who serve as student defenders within the University community. It provides opportunity to develop advocacy skills as well as providing needed representation to University students.

Black Law Student Caucus

The Black Law Student Caucus of The University of Tennessee is a member of the Black American Law Student Association. Devoted to the articulation and promotion of the needs and goals of Black law students at The University of Tennessee, the Caucus attempts to increase the awareness and commitment of the legal profession to the Black community.

Law Women

The Law Women organization offers a diversity of programs, with speakers on legal topics such as assertiveness training, police work, and spouse beating. Law Women also offers the opportunity to work in community and University projects. It provides informative assistance to the Rape Crisis Center, and in conjunction with the Women's Center and other University departments has sponsored conferences on women in education, employment discrimination and women's health.

Association of Trial Lawyers of America—Student Chapter

The goal of the Student Chapter of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America is to provide students with exposure to the field of trial advocacy through the use of speakers and other educational programs. Membership in the organization also affords students the opportunity to participate in seminars and other programs offered by the National and State Trial Lawyers Associations.

East Tennessee Lawyers' Guild

The East Tennessee Lawyers' Guild is a group of law students interested in using their legal skills to serve the total community and to promote basic political and economic change. The ETLG is a chapter of the National Lawyers' Guild, an organization which seeks "to unite the lawyers, law students, legal workers and jailhouse lawyers of America . . . to the end that human rights shall be regarded as more sacred than property interests."
