INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

Clearlake's strategy centers on our flexibility and industry expertise. The firm has a flexible mandate to invest in different parts of the capital structure in both private and public transactions through such structures as buyouts, corporate divestitures, recapitalizations and reorganizations. Our differentiated strategy relies on partnering with management teams to apply this unique, tailored approach to investing in our focus sectors.

Clearlake has assembled a team of investment professionals with a unique blend of sector and product capabilities, as well as extensive transaction, operations, and strategic expertise. Our team's history of active leadership as value-added investors is further enhanced by the firm's network of executives and operating resources across a variety of industries. This team enables Clearlake to execute complex transactions and provide strategic guidance and execution support to the management teams of our portfolio companies.
